

WANT UNION DEPOT ON PRESENT SITE

Corporation Commission Receives Notice That A. C. L. and S. A. L. Have Agreement.

INDICT BOTH FATHER AND SON

Insurance Department Secures True Bill Against J. B. and Will Holland.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
RALEIGH, N. C., May 22.—The Corporation Commission has received notice from the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce that an agreement has been reached with the Atlantic Coast Line and the Seaboard Air Line, whereby it will be agreeable for the Atlantic Coast Line passenger station to be enlarged and improved to accommodate the trains of both roads. Instead of erecting an entirely new union station on another site as ordered some time ago by the commission, members of the commission say that the plans in detail for the enlargement of the Atlantic Coast Line station have not been submitted and they can take no action until they are in hand. Commissioners are free to express themselves, however, that it will require a very considerable improvement in the capacity of carsheds and waiting-rooms, with a new and more commodious concrete bridge, much wider than the present one leading to Front Street, to meet the requirements if an adequate service is afforded.

Indict Father and Son.
Assistant Commissioner of Insurance W. A. Scott returned this morning from Lillington, where he procured from the grand jury true bills against J. B. and Will Holland, charging that they burned their store in 1904 at Furlington Cross Roads, in Harnett county, in order to get the $2,000 insurance. He says the evidence is that the goods were practically all moved out of the store to the dwelling before the fire. J. B. Holland is prominent in that section, having been in the United States Internal Revenue Service for some time. Will Holland is his son.

Commissioner Scott left this afternoon for Winston-Salem to appear against J. G. Goldstein in his trial in Superior Court there for alleged attempt to burn his dwelling for the insurance. The charge is that he started four separate fires along the wall in the kitchen with kerosene and oil, and at the same oil and set fire to two beds in an adjoining room, with a solid wall between it and the kitchen.

YOUNG MAN HURT.

Jumps From Moving Car; Head Wedged Between Rock and Rail.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
FABER, NELSON COUNTY, VA., May 22.—A young man named Ragland, jumped from a freight car while in motion at the opening of a rock cut at this place a few nights ago, and was found with his head wedged in between a rock and a new rail lying beside the track. He was picked up and taken care of by Mr. Rufus Bradshaw. Mr. Bradshaw has taken him to his home at Shulvey. The young man was unconscious and remembers nothing of the accident. He has several ugly wounds on his head and face and is badly bruised up.

State of Maine Prepares to Erect Monument to Soldiers Buried at Salisbury.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
SALISBURY, N. C., May 22.—The State of Maine has arranged to erect a handsome monument to the memory of the Federal dead in the National Cemetery in Salisbury. Colonel Thomas G. Libbey and Major Joseph L. Small, of the staff of the Governor of Maine, returned to Washington to-day, after making final arrangements for the location of the monument here.

The shaft will be unveiled this fall, and the Chief Executive of Maine, with his staff, is expected to attend.

WILMINGTON, N. C., May 22.—Messrs. Robert E. Macomber, Colonel W. Miles Cary and Robert Nowell Macomber have spent the past week in Wilmington, N. C., the guests of Captain James F. Post, treasurer of the Atlantic Coast Line.

Hear Booker Washington.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

SALISBURY, N. C., May 22.—Booker T. Washington, president of Tuskegee Institute, at Alabama, made an address to-day at the commencement hall of Livingstone College. He was heard by about 2,000 persons, many of whom were prominent white men and women.

OLD TAYLOR HOTEL.

Suit Entered Which May Force Sale of Historic Winchester Building.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
WINCHESTER, VA., May 22.—In Corporation Court of Winchester this afternoon, a chancery suit was filed by Mrs. Emily Williams Carter, the holder of a portion of a deed of trust upon the Taylor Hotel property, to force a settlement and probable sale of that famous old hotel, of which Miss Etta B. Robins, now of Indianapolis, Ind., is the sole surviving heir. Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, William McKinley and other American statesmen have been guests at this historic hotel, and during the Civil War, when Winchester was taken and retaken many times, it was headquarters of commanding generals of both armies.

DR. LEVY IN ASHLAND.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

ASHLAND, VA., May 22.—An address will be given to-morrow night in the assembly hall of the public school building by Dr. E. C. Levy, of Richmond, on the subject of "Municipal Sanitation as Applied to Ashland."

Mr. F. H. LaSalle, agricultural and industrial agent of the Norfolk and Western Railway, spent yesterday in the city.

Dandelion

was used by the Arabs four hundred years ago

as a blood purifier. Many people, especially those whose work confines them indoors, suffer from impure blood. It takes many forms—eczema, scurf, pimples, yellow complexion, itching, aches, anemia (poor watery blood) are all signs that your blood is in an unhealthy condition. The life of the body depends upon rich, pure blood, and the only way to become strong and well is to get at the root of the disease and remove the cause. Dr. Edwards' Compound Dandelion Pills are prepared from a famous old prescription. They contain nothing but vegetable matter and are unequalled as a remedy for the cure of all blood diseases. JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION GROUNDS, May 22.—While no resolution of any nature was adopted at the first day's session of the North American Baptist Convention, held at the Jamestown Exposition, to-day, from the addresses made by members of all three organizations within the association, a strong sentiment is revealed against a religious consolidation of the Southern, Northern and National conventions, the latter being the negro church; but a general consolidation for concerted work is enthusiastically favored. There are 5,000 people attending the convention.

Contrary to original plans, two sessions were held. At the first, which began at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the principal address was made by Edwin William Stephens, of Missouri, president of the convention. At the evening session Andrew Jackson Montague, former Governor of Virginia, delivered the formal address of welcome, and the response was made by Rev. H. M. King, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Providence, R. I.

World's Alliance.
A concise summing up of the work of the Baptists was given in the address of President Stephens. According to his statement, the denomination has 50,000 churches of the denomination with 5,000,000 members, and representing $10,000,000 of invested money. There are 25,000 home missionaries, with 8,000 more in foreign fields, and 150,000 converts are the result of the work.

A concerted action developed to-day to bring to America in 1910 the World's Baptist Alliance, which met in London in 1905. On behalf of Philadelphia invitations to meet in that city were extended to the alliance through the North American Convention by Rev. A. J. Rowland, secretary of the American Baptist Publication Society, and Rev. Orlando T. Stewart, both of Philadelphia.

Foreign and home missionary work and the progress being made in it were the subjects of short addresses by Rev. Thomas Barbour, of Boston, assistant to Rev. H. C. Mabie, who is now in China, celebrating the centennial of Baptist missions in that country, and Rev. R. J. Williamson, corresponding secretary of the Southern Baptist Convention's foreign mission board.

Rev. C. E. Morris, representing the National Baptist Convention, declared one-third of the negro race is made up of Baptist, with 16,000 churches, 15,000 preachers and 2,200,000 members. Speaking of Baptist progress in Canada, Rev. J. C. Brown, corresponding secretary of the foreign mission board of Ontario and Quebec, said that the city of Winnipeg has 100,000 inhabitants, who speak sixty different languages, and that the Baptists are supplying the Bible to them in forty-three languages.

Rev. H. L. Morehouse, of New York, and Rev. B. D. Gray, of Nashville, who are the corresponding secretaries respectively of the Northern and Southern Conventions, spoke briefly on church progress.

At the night session a general discussion followed the addresses of Mr. Montague and Rev. Dr. Stewart upon the question of extending missionary, Christian denomination properly engaged in the correction of public evils.

DR. WILEY TALKS TO COTTON MEN

Chief Chemist of Department of Agriculture Urges Seed Crushers to Use Plain Names.

JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION GROUNDS, VA., May 22.—A two-hours' address by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief chemist of the Department of Agriculture, was the feature of to-day's session of the Interstate Cotton Seed Crushers' Association in eleven-day session at the exposition here. Dr. Wiley's subject was "A Good Name is Rather to Be Chosen Than Great Riches."

He dwelt at length upon the harm to the cottonseed industry that is worked by adulteration and by the use of patent names. He referred to the value of the staple name, cottonseed oil, and urged the crushers to do away with the patent designations and use the original. He spent some time discussing the commercial value of the product and advocated purity of preparation without exception. He declared it to be a great food product.

Nathaniel G. Fowler, Jr., of Boston, who is the exploitation director of the association, delivered an interesting address on "Cottonseed Oil Publicity."

The All Important

Purity — there is nothing else half so important in beer. And nothing else is nearly so expensive.

Purity means absolute cleanliness.

It means freedom from germs. Even the air in our cooling rooms is filtered. And every bottle of Schlitz beer is sterilized after it is sealed.

It means an aged beer—aged for months, until it cannot cause biliousness.

Without those precautions, no beer can be healthful.

And who would knowingly drink beer that was not?

Ask for the Brewery Bottling.

Common beer is sometimes substituted for Schlitz.

To avoid being imposed upon, see that the cork or crown is branded

NORTH CAROLINA BANKERS BEGIN ANNUAL SESSION

Are Warmly Welcomed to Winston-Salem by Local Bankers and by Mayor Eaton—Mr. W. E. Andrews Will Address Meeting.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., May 22.—The first session of the North Carolina Bankers' Association was held here to-night. The meeting was presided over by President J. F. Wiley, of Durham. Addresses of welcome were delivered by Col. W. A. Blair in behalf of the local bankers; by Mayor O. B. Eaton in behalf of the city, and by Hon. Clement Manly in behalf of the Board of Trade.

Response was by Col. W. H. I. Burgwin, president of the First National Bank, of Weldon. The attendance upon the first session was large. Samuel R. Smith, of New York, a prominent bank president of that city, will arrive to-morrow morning. He will deliver an address on "Co-operation vs. Coercion."

Mr. W. E. Andrews, Auditor of the United States Treasury Department, and formerly Congressman from Nebraska, will also arrive to-morrow and make an address. When Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou was asked to attend the convention he replied that he could not accept, but suggested to the committee that Mr. Andrews would be a splendid man to deliver an address if he could be secured. Through Mr. Cortelyou's influence he was persuaded to accept the invitation to deliver an address. General R. M. Nelson, of Lillington, N. C., a former president of American Bankers' Association, is here attending the convention.

The association will meet again in August to receive the report of its special committee on the subject of the affecting of agreements for the establishment of long distance independent phone lines all over Virginia.

The following are the committee who were selected by President Parlett: George B. Kewell, of Rockingham county; Albert Parlett, of Bristol; W. N. McAnge, of Suffolk; J. Davis, of Lawrenceville, and C. Fred Bonney, of Norfolk.

Officers for the year were chosen as follows: Albert Parlett, of Bristol, president; P. E. Marbury, of Alexandria, vice-president; W. N. McAnge, of Suffolk, second-vice-president; B. J. Fisher, of Rocky Mount, secretary and treasurer.

LUMBERMEN MEET.

Will Crowd to Exposition Next Week—Saunders Says People are Coming.

JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION GROUNDS, May 22.—Next week will be distinctly a lumberman's week at the Jamestown Exposition. The National Lumber Manufacturers Association, sending delegates from every State in the Union, will hold its annual convention here Tuesday and Wednesday, May 28th and 29th. Several hundred lumbermen will attend this convention and most of them will bring their wives and families, swelling the number.

The National Hardwood Lumber Association, which meets in Atlantic City on Thursday and Friday of this week will be attended by several hundred lumbermen, most of whom will be attracted to a run-down to Norfolk and the exposition on account of the National Lumbermen.

W. O. Saunders, staff representative of the Lumber Trade Journal, of New Orleans, who attended lumbermen's meeting through the South and Southwest, says that if all other lines of industry are as enthusiastic over the Jamestown Exposition as the lumbermen seem to be, Norfolk will not have to puzzle over handling the crowds that will come.

"But you make a mistake in expecting people to break their necks getting to the show," says Mr. Saunders. "The multitudes have learned too much about exposition building, and they are giving you time to get things in shape. You will see the first crowds of your permanent run of visitors about June 15th, Georgia Day. Georgia is coming up strong."

WALKING TO JAMESTOWN.

Two Men Start From St. Louis to Trip 2,680 Miles.

ST. LOUIS, MO., May 22.—William A. Smith and Richard C. Belle, who have accomplished several feats of pedestrianism, to-day started to walk from St. Louis to the Jamestown Exposition, which they expect to reach August 19th. The distance is about 2,680 miles. The walk is in the nature of a race. The general route extends to Helena, Ark., where the Mississippi River will be crossed; thence to Birmingham, Ala.; Atlanta, Ga., the capital of the two Carolinas, then to Jamestown.

Railroad tracks will be followed to avoid hills. The race will end at Jamestown in a six-day race at the exposition.

Bigamy Not Proven.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

LYNCHBURG, VA., May 22.—W. J. Logan, who was arrested near Danville Saturday on a warrant sworn out by his wife, Mrs. Annie Logan, charging him with bigamy, was given a preliminary trial before Judge J. W. Fortson, in the West End, this morning. The result of the hearing was that Logan was discharged.

UNIVERSITY VISITORS HAVE MAY MEETING

Did Not Choose Successor to Prof. Smith, But Designated Professor Hoxton to Fill Chair Next Season.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., May 22.—The May meeting of the board of visitors of the University of Virginia was attended by Armistead C. Gordon, of Staunton, rector; John W. Cressdock, of Lynchburg; B. F. Buchanan, of Marion; Daniel Harmon, of Charlottesville; R. Walton Moore, of Fairfax; H. D. Flood, of Appomattox; Wm. H. White, of Richmond, and Joseph Eggleston, of Richmond. The only absentees were Judge J. K. M. Norton, of Alexandria, and Eppa Hunton, Jr., of Richmond. The board was called to consider the budget, and the session was rather a prolonged one.

The board did not at this meeting elect a successor to Professor Francis Smith, of the School of Physics, who resigned in January, to take effect at the close of the present session, but Adjunct Professor L. G. Hoxton was designated to take charge of the chair for the session of 1907-08.

Prof. W. M. Lile, dean of the law department, was given a leave of absence for the next session. Professor Lile and his family expect to spend a year in Europe. Mr. Armistead C. Gordon, of St. Louis, formerly of Norfolk, Va., will teach his classes, C. M. Chichester, of Fredericksburg, Va., and A. Stuart Robertson, of Staunton, were appointed instructors in law.
